

I oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards that would allow television and radio stations to broadcast expletives and nudity on the public airwaves, even if brief or “fleeting.”

It is important to maintain standards of morality in this country. There is no need or benefit to the viewing audience to include nudity or indecent language on the public airwaves. Relaxing the current policy would not serve the public interest, and I urge the FCC to reject all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.

Sincerely,

Debra Shadle
